Joining the Co-op

HOW IT WORKS

Join the Egg CSA. With the help of experienced farmers, you'll raise the chickens and share the harvest.

Bond with the chicks. This is our first year, so you'll have a chance to care for the chicks from infancy through adulthood. We expect your TLC to pay off with lots of fresh eggs by the summer.

Learn basic chicken raising practices. All members must attend the workshop "Chicken Keeping Basics" and take part in the weekly care and egg harvests.

Support breed diversity. We'll raise only endangered heritage chickens in our co-op. We'll also record our findings and teach others about alternatives to the mass produced eggs you get in the supermarket.

HOW DO I REGISTER?

Online registration will open on February 15 at 8am. Applicants will be accepted on a first come first serve basis. Registration is limited to 20 regular and 4 scholarship members.

A regular membership costs $200/year for an invaluable experience and lots of great eggs.

To register, visit our website: www.intergenerateny.org

GOLDEN EGG DONORS

Be a Golden Egg Donor and a founder of this project. Golden Egg Donors of $500 or more will receive recognition on a plaque mounted to the coop.

WHY THE JOHN JAY HOMESTEAD?

The John Jay Homestead is the perfect site for a Heritage Co-op. In 1787, our First Chief Justice John Jay created a commercial farm on this property, originally of 600+ acres. The last generation of Jays to own 'Bedford Farm' from 1915-1953, produced food here for the New York City and local market, with eggs being their top seller. The current site offers 62 acres, foundations of the original coops and plenty of fertile soil.

INTERGENERATE VEGETABLE GARDEN

Consider joining our InterGenerate Vegetable Garden as well. This 6 month program allows you to farm communally and share in the harvest of crops planted on the site of Jay's original greenhouse.
